BUSINESS SITUATION

Trade Checked, Prices Depressed, Absence of New Orders.

RELATIVELY UNFAVORABLE FEATURES

Improved Prospects for Cereal and Cotton Crops-Prices Higher for Print Cloths, Indian Corn, Oats, Lard and Coffee-Bank Clearings Increase.

New York, May 9. - Bradstreet's weekly review of the state of trade will to-day say: Relatively unfavorable features of the general business situation this week include unseasonably cool weather, which at some centres has checked trade; continued surplus stocks of cottons, which depress prices; dullness and idle machinery in the woolen goods industry; a falling off in demand for lumber at St. Louis and Minneapolis, and continued dullness in iron and steel, where, although mills and furnaces are fairly active, there is a continued absence of new orders. Chicago jobbers report the week's business in light seasonable fabrics as only fairly satisfactory, transactions in clothing smaller than in the like period a year ago, and the leather market weaker, owing to lack of demand, but light hardware relatively more active. The favorable side of the picture includes a marked increase in the total volume of bank clearings, a longer list of staples for which quotations have advanced, almost uniform and unexpectedly improved prospects for cereal and cotton crops, and a reflection of the more confident feeling as to the autumn's business in an improved demand throughout the territory supplied by St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Duluth and Sioux Falls.

Advance in Prices.

More important staples for which prices are higher are cotton, print cloths. Indian corn, oats, lard and coffee, while quotations for pork, coal and lumber remain practically unchanged. A sale of wool is reported at Boston at "lowest prices on record," from which it may be inferred bottom has been reached. Wheat flour, wheat, sugar, petroleum, Ressemer pig and foundry irons have likewise been shaded in price. The evident, though gradua. increase in the volume of business during the past two or three weeks shows itself in the enlarged volume of bank clearings. The aggregate for the week is $1,135,000,000, or 15 per cent more than last week, but only seven-tenths of 1 per cent. larger than in the first week of May, 1595, although 25 per cent. larger than in the corresponding week of 1894. As compared with the like period in 1804, the week s total clearings show a decrease of 17 per cent., and as contrasted with 1-93 a decrease of 7.5 per cent. Exports of Wheat Flour.

Exports of wheat (wheat flour included as wheat) from both coasts of the United States this week amount to 1.882.000 bushels, compared with 1.200.-000 bushels last week, 2,505,000 bushels in the first week of May, 1895, 2,815,000 bushels in the corresponding week of 1894, and 2.712,000 bushels in the like week of 1893. There are 267 business failures reported throughout the United States this week, as compared with 254 last week, 224 in the week one year ago, 198 in the first week of May, 1894, and as compared with 219 in the corresponding week of 1893.

Elsie Kreglo's Murderer Confesses.

Washington, May 9 .- All doubt concerning the murderer of Elsie Kreglo, the 16-year-old daughter of a tenant farmer in the outskirts of the city just beyond the Zoological park, who was killed Monday afternoon, has been removed. Irwin V. Gord, the negro whom the police captured at Harper's Ferry, W. Va., after a two day's search, has confessed to the detectives that he committed the crime.

Instead of Reduced Wages.

Biddeford, Me., May 9.-The mule spinners' and loom fixers' unions have appointed a committee to meet agent Robert McArthur of the Pepperell and Laconia mills and present a request that instead of the contemplated reduction in wages a short time schedule be adopted or a temporary shutdown be made, to offset over-production. which has been assigned as one of reasons for reducing wages. Offer To Compromise Rejected.

Newark, N. J., May 9.—An offer of compromise made by the wood contractors at the Builders' exchange was rejected by the 800 striking carpenters at their quarters yesterday afternoon. The bosses offered 27 1-2 cents an hour. The strikers want $2.75 per day. Unless the full scale !s agreed to by Monday z big sympathetic strike will occur, The Bermuda Reported.

Philadelphia, May 9.—Word has been received here of the arrival at Truiillo of the steamer Bermuda. She merely touched there and then cleared for Puerto Cortez, Honduras, where she is expected to drop anchor in a day or so.

Signed with the Winsted Club.

Winsted, Conn., May 9.-Daniel Mahoney, catcher of last season's Washington National League club, has club of the Nanzatuck Vallev league. of work done.

SECRET ARMOR TEST.

Secretary Herbert Decides To Exclude the Press at Indian Head To-day.

Washington, May 9.—Secretary Herbert has concluded that it is against public policy to permit representatives of the press to witness the test of the armored structure representing a model of one of the Iowa's turret, at the Indian Head proving ground today. Hitherto the results of the tests of armor for American war vessels have been freely published but foreign governments thave kept strictly secret their own experiments in this regard, and the secretary thinks the lack of reciprocity thus manifested is a sufficient reason why the practice in this country should be changed. To-day's exhibition will be witnessed by Secretary Herbert, members of the senate and house committees on naval affairs and by numerous naval officers, from many of whom, of course, more or less accurate accounts of the proceeding will be obtainable.

BICYCLES COUNTENANCED. A Rochester Methodist Church Arranges

for Their hafe Keeping. Rochester, N. Y., May 9.—The Asbury church people have started the ball rolling by being the first to countenance the bringing of bicycles to church. This is the largest and wealthiest Methodist church in the city. The board of trustees have arranged a large room in the church were sixty individual lockers for wheels have been made ready. The pastor, Rev. Hayes, says this action has become necessary from the fact that so many persons come to the weekly prayer meetings and that boys have been stealing and puncturing the tires of the bicycles in order to see the owners walk home.

RUBBER MILLS TO START UP. Employment To Be Given to 2,300 Persons in Rhode Island. Woonsocket, R. I., May 9 .- Superintendent Comee received orders yesterday to start the Alice rubber mill. employing 1,300 hands, on Monday. He says the Millville mill, employing 1,000 hands, will be started a week later. These mills of the Woonsocket Rubber company have been closed since Jan. 13. It has been the longest shutdown in their history. The resumption of operations will take a heavy load off the Woonsocket and Blackstone poor departments, as many operatives have been forced to seek aid on account of the loss of wages.

WASHINGTON TO INDIANAPOLIS Corporal Thomas Expected To Cover the 700 Miles in Eight Days.

Washington, May 9.—Corporal Chas. Thomas of Battery M, Fourth U. S. artillery, this city, will start by wheel to-morrow morning for Indianapolis, a trip of about 700 miles. He will go through Frederick. Hagerstown and Cumberland, Md.; Wheeling, W. Va., and Columbus. O. With good roads and fair weather he expects to complete the trip of eight days.

MONUMENT TO HAHNEMANN.

The Senate Appropriates $4,000 To Honor His Memory.

Washington, May 9.-The senate has passed a bill permitting the erection in Washington of a monument in honor of Samuel Hahnemann, the founder of the medical school of homeopathy and appropriating $4,000 to defray the cost of the foundation. The only restriction imposed in the bill is that the monument is not to be placed in the capitol grounds.

Yacht Serkara Going to Pieces.

Gloucester, Mass., May 9,-The yach Serkara of Salem, which while starting on a cruise to eastern ports went on the ledge off Thatcher's island, is fast going to pieces, the wind from the south making a heavy sea along the coast.

THEIR YOUTH ALONE SAVED THEM

To Be Taken to Auburn Prison Next Week To Begin Their Long Sentences-Talk of an Early Pardon Already Heard.

Rome, N. Y., May 9.-J. W. Hildreth, Theodore Hibbard and Herbert Plato, who yesterday were sentenced for wrecking the Central-Hudson fast mail train near Rome on Nov. 19 last, will be taken to Auburn prison next week to begin serving their time. It is believed that they will be in prison but a short time when efforts will be made to have them pardoned. Although Hildreth, convicted of murder in the second degree, was sentenced to imprisonment for life, and the other two to forty years each, twenty years on each of two indictments charging them with manslaughter in the first degree, to which they pleaded guilty, the authorities are disappointed that the boys could not be convicted of murder in the first degree. The district-attorney looks upon the result of the trial as an indication of the difficulty of convicting those so young of a capital crime owing to the sympathies of the jurors being aroused. Hildreth took his sentence as coolly as he has regarded all the other proceedings of the trial, but his father was so visibly affected that many in the courtroom were moved to tears. Hibbard's aged father and sister wept bitterly when he was sentenced. None of Plato's relatives were in court. Each boy, like Hildreth, took his sentence unconcernedly. Only once during the six hours which the jury spent in deliberation was any instruction asked for, and that was on the question of the different degrees of murder, the jury being under the impression that there were three instead of only two. It is stated that on the first ballot the jury stood seven for conviction of murder in the first degree, two for acquittal, and three blank. On the second bailot the vote was two for murder in the first degree, seven for second degree, one third degree, one not guilty, one blank. The third ballot stood nine for murder in the second degree, two not guilty, one third degree. Then the jury came into court and asked for instructions, after receiving which they again retired and took another ballot and returned to the court in a short time with the verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. To Rehabilitate the Ranger.

Washington, May 9.—If a report made to Secretary Herbert by the naval board on construction is adopted. the United States ship Ranger, built nearly a quarter of a century ago by John Roach, at Chester, Pa., will be made into practically a new vessel. The scheme contemplates a thorough overhauling of the Ranger's machinery, the construction of a light spar deck and other changes that will cost about Big Arrival of Italian Immigrants.

New York, May 9.—The French line steamer Chandernager, which arrived vesterday from Marseilles and Naples, brought 972 Italian steerage passengers. The passengers were closely examined by health officers and found well. As a precautionary measure, however, the entire steerage compartment was thoroughly disinfected with sulphuric gas and the vessel was washed out with a powerful solution of bi-chloride of mercury.

To Turn Out Double Eagles.

Philadelphia, May 9.—The presses at the United States mint in this city which have been stamping silver dollars and subsidiary coin for two months, will shortly also begin turning out double eagles. Gold bars to East Greenwich, was one of the finest | the value of $2,000,000 are now stored in the mint and all of this will be coined prior to the annual shut down which will take place on June 30 and last for two weeks.

Sunken Wreck Passed at Sea.

Boston, May 9.—Capt. Hock of the tug Robert H. Rathbun, just arrived from Perth Amboy with a tow of barges, reports that off Minots' light a vessel's masthead is visible above the water, standing almost perpendicularly, undoubtedly attached to a sunken wreck. The wreckage lies directly in a line between Minots' and the lightship.

Express Agent's Accounts Short,

New London, Conn., May 9. -Ellis S. Lockwood, agent of the American Express company, is missing. It is believed his accounts are $3,500 short. Supt. Rabbitt of Bellows Falls and two employes of the company are investigating Lockwood's books.

The Cincinnati Disaster. '

Cincinnati, May 9 .- It is now believed that the number of persons killed in the Walnut street explosion was eleven, the number of bodies already recovered from the ruins. The workmen have now so far removed the wreckage from the baildings destroyed by the explosion that it is apparent that no more odies are to be found.

Spanish Prosecutor Insists on Death for Competitor's Crew.

PROTEST FROM CONSUL WILLIAMS

Two of the Prisoners Born in the United States-The Court Martial's Findings Will Probably Be Submitted to

Madrid for Approval. Havana, May 9 .- A court-martial opened yesterday at the arsenal here for the trial of the men who were captured by a Spanish warship on the alleged filibustering schooner Compatitor, belonging to Key West. The prisoners were Alfredo Laborde, born in New Orleans: Owen Milton of Kansas, William Kinlea, an Englishman, and Elias Bedia and Teodoro Maza, both Cubans. Capt. Ruiz acted as president of the court, which consisted of nine other military and naval officers. All the accused pleaded not guilty. Several witnesses admitted that when the men were captured they were not armed, and offered no resistance. Despite this fact, however, the prosecutor. Lieut. Suarz, asked the court-martial to convict the prisoners of fillibustering and to impose the death sentence upon all of them. Counsel for the defence made a long review of the evidence, and demanded the acquittal of Maza. He argued against the others being sentenced to death, and declared that the evidence showed that mercy should be extended to them. The court martial has as yet rendered no judgment. It is said that its finding will be submitted for approval to the government at Madrid. During the course of the proceedings a letter was read from the American consul general. Ranon O. Williams, protesting against the trial. Consul General W.S. liams abstained from attending the court martial. Official Report of Progress of the War. Gen. Linares reports that his command has succeeded in dislodging the forces of Jose Maceo from the entrenched camp occupied by them in the province of Santiago de Cuba. In the fighting that took place before the rebels retreated seventeen of the insurgents were killed. The troops, according to the report, lost only two killed and seven wounded. Another official report issued to-day states that the combined forces of Gens. Altamira and Inclan have driven the rebels under Antonio Maceo into a different position in the hills at Guaramaya, near Bahia Honda, province of Pinar del Rio. The report makes no mention of any rebel loss, but states that the Spaniards had seven killed and twenty-five wounded. Among the latter are one captain and two lieutenants.

Successful Filibustering Expedition. Kingston, Jamaica, May 9.-Cuban residents here have received advices announcing the safe arrival in Cuba of an expedition in aid of the insurgents which recently left this island. The vessel conveying the expedition was chased by a Spanish cruiser and comnelled to land her men and cargo in the vicinity of an encampment of government troops, which, however, was avoided by a flank movement.

SENSATION AT CAMDEN. A Former City Official's Accounts Short-Grand Jury Recalled.

Camden, N. J., May 9 .- The grand jury for the April term of the Camden courts was recalled to appear before Supreme Court Justice Garrison this morning. While all those concerned declined to throw any light upon the matter it is learned that the experts who had been at work on the city's books for many months discovered a shortage in the accounts of a former city official. The reported defalcation and the summoning of the grand jury created a great stir in political circles.

Administratrix of Stetson Estate.

Boston, May 9.-Mrs. Emma Stokes of Brooklyn, N. Y., has filed a petition in the Suffolk probate court for the appointment of herself as administratrix of the estate of her daughter, Mrs. Katherine Stokes Stetson, the deceased widow of John Stetson, the late theatrical manager.

Titzgerald Will Admitted to Probate. Bridgeport, Conn., May 9 .- The will of William Fitzgerald of this city has been admitted to probate despite the protests of his brother, James Fitzgerald of Portland, Me., who claimed undue influence. An appeal to the superior court was taken, The estate amounts to $150,000. Power To License Boston Theatres. Boston, May 9.—The house has passed to be engrossed the bill taking from the board of aldermen of the city of Boston the power to license theatres and giving this power to the board of police, which is appointed by the governor. Our Warships in Chinese Waters.

Washington, May 9 .-- Rear Admiral McNair has telegraphed the navy department that the Olympia, Detroit and stachas had sailed from Woosung for beloo, China. These vessels with the forktown have composed a squadron n evolution and have spent some time magged in maneuvres along the (hiwe coast.

CHICAGO REDEEMS HERSELF. Complies with Her Agreement and Will

Not Lose the Democratic Convention. Chicago, May 9 .- The democratic national convention will be held in Chicago and at the Coliseum in accordance with the original programme. This was the decision announced by National Chairman Harrity at the close of the special meeting of the sub-committee on the convention of the national democratic committee last evening. All the obligations under which the convention had been voted to Chicago have been complied with. With the exception of Senator Gorman every member of the sub-committee was present at the meeting. Even chairman E. E. Well of the Wisconsin state central committee, who has been at death's door for months, came down from the Cream City to attend. The sub-committee in executive session appointed the following committees: On press and telegraph accommodations and facilities: S. P. Sheerin, Logansport, Ind.; E. C. Wall, Milwaukee; John C. Prather, St. Louis. On decorations and music: Thomas H. Shirley, Louisville: B. T. Cable, Chicago; U. C. Wallace, Washington. The latter was also selected as a member of the committee on arrangements, to succeed Senator Gorman of Maryland, who had notified the committee of his inability to serve. The committee adjourned to meet again in this city on the 29th inst. No tickets of admission to the convention will be issued until July 6. Application for press tickets should be made to S. P. Sheerin, chairman of the sub-committee on press and telegraph. Logansport, Ind.

CLERKS FOR CONGRESSMEN.

Action Taken Yesterday by the House Will Cost Uncle Sam $500,000 a Year.

Washington, May 9.-The action of the house yesterday in voting to provide the members with yearly clerks, the same as the senate, instead of for the sessions of congress only, increases the expenses of the government about $500,000 a year. It was not until 1893 that the house went even so far as that. The action was preceded by an animated debate of an hour or more, in which a dozen members took part. The principal opposition to the resolution introduced by Mr. Hartman, rep., Mont., and reported by the committee on accounts, without recommendation, was upon the ground that the treasury was not in condition to meet the increased expense, and two or three members suggested that the services of clerks were not needed. The resolution was warmly advoted by Messrs. Hartman and Henderson, ren. Jowe Before being passed the resolution was amended so as to exclude representatives who are chairmen of committees having annual clerks.

THE FULFINCH STATE HOUSE. Favorable Report on the Measure for Its Preservation.

Boston, May 9.—The house committee on ways and means has voted, seven to four, for the preservation of the Bulfinch state house, for whose salvation petitions have been received from hundreds of prominent men in many places. The seven affirmative votes were cast by Messrs. Lowell of Boston, Stevens of Malden, Mellen of Worcester, Harwood of Newton, Clarke of Wellesley, Gallivan of Boston and Weymouth of Fitchburg. The four negative votes were cast by Messrs. Humphrey of Dedham, George of Haverhill, Gillmore of Cambridge and Bouve of Hingham. The efforts to save the building have doubtless succeeded, for a marked change of sentiment in the legislature has occurred, and it seems certain that the majority report against the Tuttle bill will be accepted.

ABYSSINIAN CAMPAIGN.

The Italian Government Announces Ito Plans in the Chamber of Deputies.

Rome, May 9.—In the chamber of deputies the government announced last night that Kasala would be retained. It was added that it was to Italy's interest to concurrently fulfil the claims of Great Britain's friendship. Adigrat, having been relieved, would be abandoned. The ransom of the Italian prisoners held by the Abyssinians would be negotiated with King Menelik. Twelve battalions of troops now in Abyssinia would be recalled on Gen. Baldissera's advice. The government repudiated the idea of abandoning Erythrea. It would fortify the frontier and construct roads and a railway in the colony.

Another Civil Service Order.

Washington, May 9 .- The president has issued an order extending the civil service rules to the interstate commission. This brings all offices in the commission here and outside of Washington within the classified service, except those requiring the president's nomination and confirmation by the senate. The order, which takes effect immediately, makes a total of about 85,200 positions now under the federal civil service rules.

The Cohoes' Bridge Accident.

Troy, N. Y., May 9.—Only one pea son. Existe Vincelette, boss of the repair gang, was drowned by the falling of an arch of the Cohoes bridge yesterday, although a number of workmen and boys were nurled into the water.

ENGLAND'S DILEMMA

The Government Seriously Worried Over the Transvaal Affair.

AN INQUIRY CANNOT BE AVOIDED

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's Reply in the House of Commons to a Request for a Statement of the Government's Position.

London, May 9 .- That the Transvaal disclosures are causing the government no end of worry is now plainly apparent and a searching inquiry into the matter by parliament can not be avoided. When the liberal leader, Sir William Harcourt, asked the government in the house of commons vesterday afternoon to make a statement regarding the raid against the Boers. Mr. Chamberlain's perplexity was quickly noticed. Sir William said that the opposition had hitherto not unduly pressed the government on this important matter, but the time had now arrived for the house to be informed of the government's intention in he case. The responsible directors of the British Chartered South Africa company at Cape Town and Johannesburg were. he said, the authors of the raid, and Dr. Jameson was only their subordinate. The government was responsible for the acts of the chartered company to the nation and to the world. The partisans of the company were trying to pass off on the credulity of the people that the raid was an impulsive action to protect the people of Johannesburg against outrage. But he could not think of anything more revolting than the low slang of the cipher dispatches which showed the true aspects of the affair.

Defends Rhodes.

Replying, Mr. Chamberlain said that in regard to the chartered company he did not dispute the authenticity of the cipher telegrams which the Transvaal authorities had published, although there were as yet no legal proofs that they indicated complicity on the part of the directors of company. What, he continued, was regarded the actual invasion of the Transvaal there was reason to believe that Mr. Rhodes had expressed his disapproval of an I had endeavored to stop the raid. Did the opposition, he asked, demand the punisliment of Mr. Rhodes? Whatever may have been Mr. Rhodes' errors, he had also rendered great services, which could not be forgotton. Mr. Rhodes was now deprived of power for mischief and the directors of the chartered company had shown their confidence in him by deferring their acceptance of his resignation. Considering the disturbed state of Rhodesia and the influence of Mr. Rhodes in that territory he did not blame the directors for their show of confidence,

Not Time for an Inquiry. The government, he said, adhered to their promise to make a searching inquiry into the action of the chartered company, but he held that such an inquiry must not be opened until the judicial proceedings connected with the Transvaal raid were ended, Then, he said, he would propose an inquiry by a joint committee of both houses. Mr. Chamberlain said that he had not threatened President Kruger, but had claimed the right to make friendly representations. President Kruger promised to consider these representations, and the government awaited the fulfilment of his promises. In the meantime he had asked Sir Hercules Robinson, governor of Cape Colony, to come to England, but the request for Henry Labouchere, who is a bitter opponent of the British South Africa company, then addressed the house. He described the company as a gang of shady financiers who were running a gambling concern with the union jack tlying over it. Cecil Rhodes, he said, had uttered deliberate falsehoods, basely deceiving Gov. Robinson, and had, when prime minister of Cape Colony, disgraced and dishonered the high tradition that British ministers did not make money from their positions. Mr. Labouchere concluded by declaring that he regretted the decision of Mr. Chamberlain, who was fettered by the cabinet.

Do Not Need Excise Licenses.

New York, May 9 .-- Corporation Counsel Scott, in reply to an inquiry from Acting Chief of Police Cortright regarding the status of social clubs under the Raines law, has sent an opinion to police headquarters, holding that under the existing laws social clubs do not need excise licenses of any kind.

A RECONCILIATION.

The fog that had prevailed during the early hours of the morning disappeared before the bright rays of the sun as it arose above the mountains. We had a clear view of the Juniata from the point a mile above us, where it surged around a little bluff, crowned with a clump of budding trees, until it was lost again in a gap in the dark, green ridges a mile below. At our feet rushed the swoilen river, which the heavy rains that had deluged the country during the week previous had transformed f-om a peaceful little stream into an angry flood, so that it stretched out its arms, and despoiled many a rich farm and laborer's home. Now it was bearing its booty on its bread, turbulent bosom to the valleys below, there to case it aside. On the day before a barn, with frightened fowl perched high upon its peaked roof, had floated Ly the spot where Sam Soper and 1 were standing; several small frame houses, corn cribs and other rickety farm buildings had gone bobbing merrily along on the swift current, great trees, uprooted by the greedy waters, barrels, boxes and household furniture had we seen. To-day the flood was ebbing; its strength was gone; the rains had ceased, and for the first time after many days we could see the sun

I glanced from the river into the face of the man at my side.

"I guess, Sam, we will not see any more houses go by," I said; "nothing but barrels and such uninteresting ob jects. I suppose, though, they will be of use to the people below."

"It's an ill wind ez blows nobody any good, ez Pete Siders sais," he replied solemnly. "The folks up the valley"! miss them bawrels an' things, but they'll come handy to them below ea ketches 'em.'' I laughed.

"It is easy for you to argue in this manner, for you are one of the fortunate ones, urless some one claims that rocking chair that you rescued from drowning."

A faint smile passed over Soper's face. It was quickly gone, and his countenance resumed its habitual stolid look He replied, somewhat gruifly:

"Ef a feller don't seize his opportunity, it won't seize him." He hesitated, and then added: "Lz Pete Siders

I seated myself upon a stump and awaited his reply. He was a crude, rather stupid-looking man, clad in a rough garb that betokened his rural environments-a ragged cloth cap, a heavy, we'll-patched suit, which had once been of gray material, a collarless shirt and high boots. His hair had been close-cropped a few days before. in token of the coming of summer, and his unkempt black beard stood out in bold contrast to his seeming baldness. His nose was narrow, long and hooked and his eyes were deep-set beneath shaggy brows.

After a long pause he replied to my question in a drawling tone, and with the manner of a man perfectly consinced of the truth of what he said:

"Ef you ans hed ez much in your head ez Pete Siders hes in his leetle finger you'd be a smart man."

"But who is he? I exclaimed. "I have visited this valley yearly since I was a boy, yet I never before heard of him. He does not live hereabouts, does

But I've never b'en able to git off at them times; an' when I kin git off I allus blame Pete an' cal'late he kin come to

"It must have been a very serious trouble?" said I.

"Hawgs," he replied. "Nawthin' but a few mean pigs. You see I was livin' up there three summers ago. I made 'rangements with Hiram Bender, who bed a farm close be my place, fer him to let me her three young hawgs in September. I 'tended to fatten 'em up an' butcher 'em when it come cold. One day, in corn huskin' time, I goes over to Haram's to git 'em. When I ast him fer 'em, he looks at me surprised like, an' eris, sais her "Why, Sam, Pete Siders got them pigs. He tol' me you sayd he was to git 'em an' you'd pay me fer 'em, ez you owed him for his hevin' helped con three days in the woods last winter." ly as jest knocked. I knowed Petewas hard up, fer he'd kinder be'n layin' off all summer, but I never tho't that of him. I never let on to Hiram, but jest

I tol' him what I'd come fer, he drawed himself up ez fer ez he could, fer he's a leetle man, an' sais: 'Does you mean to call me a thief?' Then I sais: 'I never owed you no money, Pete Siders.' 'Sam Soper.' sais he, 'hain't you satisfied of callin' your brother-in-law a thief!' An' then he turns an' walks into the house, an' shets the door in my face. I hain't seen hir i sence, fer I couldn't stan' livin' near lete an' not belu' on peaceful groun's with him. I give up me place, an' got a job here, 'tendin' the canal

"And sometimes you think you were to blame?" I asked.

"Sometimes," he replied. "Petche hed cur'ous ways, an' I don't b'lieve he meant no harm. I o'tn't hev called hin Soper suddenly started to his feet, and, shading his eyes with his hands, gazed up the river.

"A fiddle!" he cried. "Out on the river! I heard it plain. There it is

I sprang to his side, and looked up the stream at a black object to which he was pointing. It was a boat; and we could see a man sitting in its stern. rocking to and fro. Then I heard a quick succession of harsh, grating notes, low, but distinct, and I saw that the man was fiddling.

"It's Pete!" cried my companion. "Thet's his playin' an' that's him. Look at the boat! Why, it won't stay up an

The craft was sunk low in the water, and was sweeping rapidly toward us on the turbulent stream; but the fiddler seemed unconscious of his danger, for he swung to and fro in a maudlin manner, running his bow madly over the strings of his instrument.

"It's Pete's way," Soper exclaimed. "He don't know what he's doin', fer he's b'en at the liquor ag'in."

As he spoke he stripped off his coat and boots

"What are you doing!" I cried. seizing his arm. "You are not going out in such a flood!"

The boat was bearing rapidly toward us; every motion of its maudlin occurant was now plainly discernible; every note of his aimless music was distinctly audible.

"Nawthin' else to do," came the quiet reply. "They's rocks an' rapids below. an' thet boat 'ud never live through

With that Soper ran out into the river. In a moment he was over his depth; then he struck out into the stream. His was not a master's stroke. Ho beat the swiftly flowing water convuisively with his hands, and seemed to be reaking almost superhuman efforts to reach a point that he believed the boat would pass. His progress was slow. and the current bore him down the river. His efforts would have been vain had not the runaway craft taken a sudden swerve toward him. It was almost on him. Then I saw him raise his long arm high above him and grasp the bow. Instantly the boat turned its nose toward the shore, and I breathed more

Siders sprang from his place, and with unsteady steps began to make his way toward the man who was risking his own life to save him. The craft gave a quick lurch over on one side so that the water rushed in and almost filled it. "Get down." I screamed

"Let go there!" yelled Siders, frantically. "You'll upset me, you fool!" He raised his fiddle and struck wildly at Soper, but his blow fell short of its mark; he lost his balance and toppled into the bottom of the boat, which righted itself, but none too soon. Siders quickly recovered and cautiously crawled forward. "Git off there!" he yelled.

Soper made no answer, for he was almost exhausted. He clung more desrerately to the craft, which was now within a hundred feet of the shore. The fiddle whirled through the air and crashed down on his head. Still he clung on. With a cry of disappointment Siders fell into the bottom of the boat.

I ran out into the water, seized the sinking craft, and dragged it ashore When he heard the keel grate on the gravel, Sam Soper released his hold and fell into my arms unconscious. Thite I him out on the bank. Across his forehead there was a great gash from which the blood flowed freely.

Some men came to my aid from a neighboring field, and helped me to carry the injured man to his home, which stood a few hundred yards back from the river. The wonderful Siders, who had partially recovered his senses by reason of his immersion, followed us. He explained that he had spent the night fiddling at a party and had at daybreak started for his home. The last thing that he remembered clearly was getting into a boat to cross the

When Sam Soper recovered conscious ness a half an hour later he asked for his brother-in-law, and as Siders sank into a chair at his bedside be held out his hand and said: "Pete, I think I'll go over the river to live agin, fer I 'low I was to blame." "I 'low you was, too, Sam," mumbled the other, taking the proffered hand. "But I don't bear you no spite."—N. Y Evening Sun.

A Home Thrust.

The other day a young man from London arrived in a northern city, and wishing to let his friends in the south know of his safe arrival, he went to a post office (not the chief one), and inquired if he could send a telegram direct from the office, and how long it would take. The young lady was inclined to be snubbish, and cut short his inquiries with: "I am not paid to answer silly questions." Her face blanched wonderfully, however, when she found herself compelled to wire the following message: "Arrived safe. Girls here ugly and bad-tempered."-

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the VV transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual dis-ease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs. promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is ever, where esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you pur-chase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely need and gives most general satisfaction.

SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1896.

The price of coal in New York averages eighty five cents a ton more than it did at this time, last year. Yet the presidents of the coal roads continue to gravely assert that there is no combination to advance or maintain prices.

Mr. B. S. Dayton, in view of the announcement that Tom Bradley has recanted his recantation, has storped "getting signatures to en endorsement petition," and will coutent himself with sending a personal note asking "Where are you at?" The order for three gross of Bradl-y buttons has been countermanded.

The reversal of another of Recorder Goff's convictions and sharp criticisim of the "learned judge" for grave errors in the admission of evidence give New York people occasion to meditate on their folly in jumping at the conclusion that a "reformer" must of necessity make a good judge.

The McKinley triumphs of the week, which seem to insure his nomination at St. Louis on the first ballot, have been followed by a marked increase in gold shipments, which are not explained by business and financial conditions. The explanation is, however, that the probability of the nomination of a Presidential candidate of unsound financial opinions and with a distinct leaning toward silver coinage has caused European capitalists to take fright, and they are closing out their American investments while there is a certainty of getting back as good dollars as they sent here.

The drought is still unbroken, and day by day, the prospect for a good erop of hay in Orange county becomes more and more dismai. It is well that sessonable weather for grass prevails West and in the Canadas, as we will have to buy hay, and a good deal of it, if this sort of weather hangs on much longer. But counting on the Canadas as sources of supply, in case of home famine, is a little previous, as, in the event of McKinley getting ir, he will wall us off from hay fields over the line. According to his economic logic our prosperity and happiness would be all the more promoted by our having to pay all the higher prices to [make good our deficiency. As plain, in Providence for rain to make grass | wise. that we may make our own hay.

Chairman Hackett, of the Republican State Committee, and one of the managers of the Morton campaign, announced, last night, that Col. Bradley had been convinced of the e ror of his ways and would vote for Morton at St. Louis. The explanation given is that while Bradley is at heart for McKinley and desires the nomination of the man who made a tariff that gave the knife business the most protection ever accorded ir, he is now satisfied that McKinley will be nominated without any votes from New York, and is therefore willing to vote for Morton as long as the New York delegation sees fit to support him. This does not sound very reasonable or sensible but it might go, if it were not that Ool. Brailey, when he an nounced his purpose to vote for Mc-Kinley, gave as a reason for abandoning Morton that he had no earthly show for a nomination. Between Bradley's own statement and Bradley as quoted by Hackett there is a great gulf fixed.

stopped a Runaway,

A horse belonging to B, J, Mallon, of the Empire Granite Company, which had been hitched at the Oriental Hotel, this forenoon, broke loose, stripping off the bridle and reine, and ran down East Main street at a rapid speed. At Woodlawn avenue it met an electric car. Brad Decker was the motorman and stopped the car when ne saw the horse coming, and he and Conductor Ed. Harold sprang in front of the horse and stopped it. The wagon was not damaged in the least.

with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for Bix years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla — for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine."

The lodge at the same meeting conferred upon one candidate the rank of Page and on two others the rank of E-quire.

High Prices for Shad

Marketmen say that as the season advances the price of shad goes up instead of down, as might naturally be expected. The cool weather may have something to do with with pre venting good carches, but a wider market, due to bett-r transportation facilities, keeps up the demand and makes it possible to maintain high prices.

The Board of Eineation Acts Wisely in Allowing all Members of the Graduating Class to appear at Com

The Board of Ejucation acted wisely, last night, in granting to all members of the graduating class, who may wish to take part in the commencement ex-rese-, the right to do so. There are but seventeen members of the class and with declams ions and essays limited to reasonable length the exercises will not be unduly long.

The giving of commencement appointments to only a part of a class invariably causes disappointments and hard feelings, and so long as the classes are not unduly large it seems the wiser policy to allow all the graduates, who wish, to take part in the commencement exercises. And if, in the future, it should be necessary to restrict the number of ap polatmente, select on should be made in accordance with some fixed, eshy-that a commencement appointment may be an incentive to study and application, and may be accepted by the public as an evidence of good scholarship. Appointments made in any other way lose half their value and significance and open wide the Goor to suspiciors of Javoritism.

THE HENLEY REGATTA.

Dr. McDowell, of Chicago, Will Compete for the Diamond Sculls. Dr. William S. McDowell, of the Delaware Boat club, of Chicago, has entered for the diamond sculls in the Henley regutta, in England.

McDowell weighs, in good condition. 170 pounds, and stands five feet eleven inches high. He is in splendid shape now, and with a few weeks' practice on the water will be able to row the race of his life. The English regatta will be held early in July. Dr. McDoweli commenced sculling in 1888, and has participated in all the various regattas since that time. Last year he succeeded in winning the amateur championship at Saratoga from a field of the best scullers. At the People's Fourth of July regatta in Philadelphia he met and defeated the best scullers in the east. Later in the season, at the regatta of the Northwest Rowing association he won the quarter-mile dash, and also the senior single mile and a half in 9:41. Later he won the championship of the south in Indianapolis. and also the senior single event at the Lubor day regatta of the Lincoln Park Navy. He is confident that he can row in faster time than in 1895.

Dr. McDowell will be entered in all of the principal regattas of the country after his return from England. The Toronto Rowing club has entered Thompson for the Henley event, but McDowell is of the opinion that he can outdistance him. He is the only other competitor from this side of the water. and he has already been beaten by McDowell. If McDowell succeeds in winning the diamond sculls it will be a feat which has never before been performed by an American.

ness; in 1883 he was elected a member of the East Saginaw common council, serving two terms, at the end of which he was elected representative to the Michigan legislature of 1887-88; in 1890 he was the candidate for lieutenant governor on the republican state ticket; was mayor of Saginaw for two years, 1892-94; and was elected to the Fifty-third and reelected to the Fiftyfourth congress as a republican.

Relies of the Stone Age.

A burying ground belonging to the late stone age has recently been discovered near Worms, Germany. Up to the present about 70 graves have been examined, but not the slightest trace of metal has been found. Arm-rings of blue and gray slate were buried with the bodies. In hardly a single case was there missing from the women's graves the primitive corn-mill, consisting of two stones, the prinding stone and the grain crusher. The men's graves contained weapons and implements, all of stone, with whetstones and bones for sharpening purposes.

Wonderful Catalpa Tree. In Nevada, Mo., a young catalpa tree, about 20 feet tall, is growing with a section of a coal stove grate firmly attached near its roots. The tree bas grown through the bars of the grate from the seed and, as it increased in diameter, the wood happed over and under the bars, holding it as in a vise. The grate was lifted off the ground several inches as the growth of the tree progressed.

HOW TO PAUR AWAY FURS.

Best Way to Save Your Scalskin Sacque-Preserving Wearing Apparel. "About this time," as the old Farmers'

Almanae says, "look out for instructions about preserving wearing apparel from the ravages of moths." Every woman must know the theory, but every autumn a wail goes up from the women who have not been able to make practice and theory agree, and who find their furs and woolen garments more or less the worse for the inroads of moths, says Jennes.

The secret of preventing moth ravages, in a nutshell, is this: Prevent moth millers from laying their eggs in the garments. If garments are packed away free from miller eggs, and are kept where the moth miller can't get at them, there is no danger of the goods being injured. If there are moth eggs in the goods when they are put away, all the "preventives" that can be packed among the goods will not prevent the eggs hatching out the worms that eat the goods.

Furriers, as a general thing, do not pack away their furs. They fill their shops with strong-smelling drugs, and once a week shake and refold or rehang the garments, to keep them from becoming ereased and marred, and feei safe enough with these provisions to accept private furs and insure them against damage. But the housewife cannot turn her house into a drug store, and is obliged to put her turs into special receptacles. The best one would undoubtedly be a light room with hooks and shelves and a tight-fitting door and window. The room could be aired occasionally, a screen in the window preventing moth millers getting in surreptitiously, and old sheets or unbleached or calico cotton covers would keep off

In the absence of such a room dark closets must generally be made the receiving places for wools and furs. Moths love the dark, and have a pen chant for tucking themselves away out of sight. Therefore it not infrequently happens that goods are put away moth free, but in closets where stray millers are hovering the result upsets ali calculations as to the efficacy of such preventives.

To outwit the millers, do all the pack ing in the sunlight. First elean clothing free from spots, beat and dust, and hang every piece out of doors on a breezy, sunshiny day. Bring them in at night, and haug them out a second day for an hour or two, as it is not wise to pack away goods that have lain over night exposed to the sly miller, looking for a soft nest, without another airing. After a final shake, do the packing in trunks, boxes, drawers or bags, but always in something that can be covered up tightly. Be sure these receptacles are clean, then line with newspapers and have the edges overlap widely. Detween every two layers of goods spread a newspaper, and put one over the top. Moths do not like printers' ink and will not eat through it. The use of the paper is to prevent moths getting at the goods from the outside, and from eating in more than one layer if by chance a collection of eggs has been deposited in some garment before it is packed away, despite one's best endeavors. Dresses and men's suits, which cannot well be folded, msy best hung upon wooden "shoulders" and covered with a cotton bag. This bog should have double-stitched seams, and the top should be folded down twice and basted, a strip of the stuff being wound about the wire book where it comes through the top of the bag to hang the shoulder

To sum up, it is not the miller, but the miller's eggs, from which are hatched the ravenous moths that do the mischief. Moth marbles and camphor, tobacco and pepper, and all the other ccorous substances are useful only when the air can be so saturated with them that millers cannot live in it. They do not prevent the hatching out of eggs once laid. Brushing dislodges eggs, wind and sunshine and hearing operate to keep millers at bay, and the combination of these agents with keen eyes and newspapers and tightly covered receptacles will prevent moth cavages without the aid of any ill-smelling or expensive chemicals.

It may not be generally known that while all woolen is beloved of moths. not all furs are. The miller seldom settles down to lay her eggs upon sealskin or Persian lamb, for instance, but will get at marten wherever it happens to be, unless the utmost care is taken to prevent her doing so. The explanation is that certain dyes are obnoxious to the fastidious moth, while certain natural scents please her mischievous mightiness. If, therefore, your martentrimmed cape or gown is kept about after moths begin to fly, to be worn on chance cold days, be sure that the garments are not left hanging in a dark place for many hours at a time.-Phildelphia Telegraph.

Apples Cooked in Butter.

Pare and core six tart apples of equal size and arrange them in a baking dish that is large enough to receive all the apples on its flat surface. Place a teaspoon of sugar in the hollow of each apple and a small quantity of any preferred spice. After they have begun to bake baste them with scanty half cup of water, in which a level tablespoon of butter has been melted, and repeat the basting twice. The last basting will use up the buttered water and the apples should be done shortly afterward. This preparation has a very dainty flavor, and it will present an attractive appearance if the fruit is not broken. It is usually served hot for breakfast, or for a winter supper. Sugar may be dusted over the apples when taken from the oven, or if they are to be eaten cold it may be added just before sending to table.-Boston

"For five years, I was a great sufferer from a most persistent blood disease, none of the various medicines I took being of any help whatever. Hoping that change of climate would henefit of me, I went to Cuba, to Florida, and then to Saratoga Springs, where I remained some thate drinking the waters. But all was no use. At last, being advised by several friends to try Aver's Sarsaparilla, I began taking it, and very soon favorable results of Sarsaparilla, I began taking it, or and very soon favorable results of were manifest. To-day I consider myself a perfectly healthy man, with a good appetite and on the least trace of my former complaint. To all my friends, and especially young men like myself. I recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla, if in need of a perfectly reliable blood-puriner." — Jose of A. Escoban, proprietor Hotel of Victoria, Key West, Fia; residence, 352 W. 16th St., New York.

M. E. DANIELS. Eye Specialists, have leased permanently the three front rooms in the Wilcox Building, 57 North street. Middletown, N. Y., which have been elegantly fitted up extensively as OPTICAL PARLORS, which are now open to the public. With 25 years of experience we feel justified in saying that we will merit our share of the paironage from the citizens of Middletown and vicinity. The eye is a delicate organ, and imperfectly fitted will do injury that never can be retained. Bon't spend your money where you have to pay for calls or patronize those who are here to day and elsewhere formorrow. Parients need attention after bring fitted—which you always get free. If your eyes trouble you or have headaches, come and have them examined. Readaches, come and have them examined. Readaches, nervousness, dizziness are nearly in every case caused by defect of vision and can be corred by properly adjusted glasses. Our spectatty. Visual Imperfection Astigmatism in all stages successfully treated. Everything warranted or no money accepted. Free examination entails ro oulgation to nurchase from us but if you desire to give us your order our prices will be the very lowest. When persons v and their eyes examined they expect to find meatly fitted uo rooms, free from licrusion, by other people this you always find at our parlors. We carry the largest stock of opineal goods in all the latest densits. Delays are dangerous. Come to day, to morrow may never come. Try us and save money. Patients dealing with recan visit either our Newburgh or Middletown offices.

Tuseral of Wilbur C. Freder cks,

The funeral of Wilbur C. Fredericks, son of Supervisor Geo. W. Fredericks was held in Chester, yesterday, and was attended by a large number of sorrowing friends. The Chester Band, of which deceased was a member, attended in a body and in full uniform. A delegation of his classmates from Eastman's Business College was also present.

The floral offsrings were numerous and very beautiful, among them being a fibral curnet from the band. A number of friends from this city attented the funeral.

There is more Catarrh in this secdiseases put together, and until the last few years was it supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and, by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Adress.

THE ORANGE BLOSSOMS' FLAG. It Will Be Presented by the Daughters of Orange-The Next Reunion. At a meeting of the Board of Offi core and Trustees of the 124th N. Y. Volunteers neld in Goshen, Saturday, May 2, matters pertaining to the coming reunion were considered and the President was authorized to select a place in which to hold it.

Capt. Lawis S. Wiene; late president of the society, made a statement relating to the flag to be presented by the Daughters of Orange.

Ail correspondence in relation to the subject was read, which showed that the request of Mrs. Ellis to the committee having the matter in charge, that she be permitted to furnish the flig, had been gladly received, but that the flag would not now be given by Mrs. Ellis, as the plans and contracts, which had been made prior to her request and could not be recalled, did not meet the approval of the agent of Mrs. Ellis.

Toe following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Resolved, Tnat the action of the late cresident of our socie y and of committee appointed by him in the matter of procuring a flag for the society, is hereby approved.

Resolved, That the third flag to be presented by the Daughters of Orange at the next reunion shall be the accepted flig of the "Orange

Resolved, That the president and secretary convey to Mrs Ellis the grateful appreciation of the society for her generous offer.

Resolved, That we will endeavor in every way possible to make our next reunion one of perfect harmony and complete success.

A Queer Riding Flace for Gold,

Farmer Piffer, who resided near the Delaware Water Gap, died a few days ago. The appraisers of the estate in going over his effects found an old pall in the wagon house, which at first was supposed to contain noth ing but a lot of old nails. To their surprise, however, it was more than You of the country than all other halffull of gold, and on counting the money it amounted to $2,350. This was a great surprise to the heirs, as they knew nothing of the old man's hearding of gold.

WILL NOT BUILD A SPIRE-

St. Pant's Official Board Decides to Expend About $3,000 to Interior Im-

The official board of St. Paul's M. E. Church held a meeting, last night, to consider the prosposition to make general repairs to the church, including the building of a spire to replace the one blown down a number of years ago.

The board decided that certain repairs to the interior of the church were necessary and will have them made. The lecture room will receive a thorough overhauling, which is very much needed. The audience room will be recarpeted and decor ated and other necessary repairs made, the total cost of which is estimated at about $3,000.

The action of the Board in deciding not to rebuild the spire was wise. Since the old spire was blown down the church has made as rapid progress in all that goes to make up the welfare of a church society as it would have done if its steeple had pierced the clouds and, in spite of a little unpleasantness for a brief period, which happily has now passed away, was never in patter condition than it is to-day. While it s true that Sc. Paul's is one of the largest congregations in the city, it is also true that a very large proportion of its members have small or at least moderate incomes, and have already been taxed heavily for the building and support of the church, and should not be asked to pay several gnidiemos not signification to engellond which, though it may be desirable, is not at all essential to the welfare of the church.

SUNDAY SELLING AT THE NORTH END A Hotel which seems to Be Living Up

t . Its Raines Law Rights, Captain Gould received, this morning, an anonymous letter from some End, complaining of a certain hotel in that locality. The writer claims that the proprietor "sells beer 365 days in the year, sunday being one biggest day." He furnishes a list of names of the Sunday patrons of the place, and hopes the Captain willlook into the matter.

The Captain would like to know the name of the writer of the letter, and would like him or her to come forward and make a .ormal complaint.

The police are powerless to close such places without proper complaints, backed up by sufficient evidence to convict the offenders, and anonymous communications will never accomplish the desired end.
